

THE WILD ATLANTIC WAY

IRELAND'S fantastic Wild Atlantic Way has been attracting tourists by their tens of thousands over the past two years.

IrelandWays.com specialises in holidays along it – and offers walking routes so that you can experience everything that the stunning region has to offer.

Take a dip in the Atlantic Ocean, sample some of the finest seafood and relax in beautiful coastal towns.

Whatever route you choose, an unforgettable getaway is guaranteed.

For example, there is the Kerry Camino and the Dingle Peninsula. Prices start at €278 per person sharing for a three-night break walking the Kerry Camino part of the Dingle Way.

A four-night break on the Burren Way and the Cliffs of Moher starts at €384 per person sharing.

Or you can enjoy three nights on the Beara Way from Glengarriff to Castletownbere from €284 per person sharing.

Prices include accommodation on a half-board basis, luggage transfers and a holiday pack with notes and information.

There is five per cent discount when you book your break two months in advance.
